

Is this love?

Is this love?

by Cathlyn Brook

☒ Relationship dilemmas and associated emotions associated are the eternal companions of our life. One never ceases to search for finding happiness, man and woman are destined to long for peace and harmony between them. This book explores the most intimate feelings with astonishing frankness and openness, speaking genuinely about love, while focusing on such issues as what one can do, what to wear, what one can give, what the right path is. This is two people's honest confession about their feelings for each other and experiences they have shared, having been united in love, lust and a spiritual journey.

The book is available in Hungarian!